EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Roxana Yang on 2 August 2004.

In claim 436, line 33, after "the", --electromagnetic energy-- has been added.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 435-438 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 435-438 are allowable over the prior art for at least the reason that the prior art fails to teach and/or suggest a method or system for producing a modulated beam of electromagnetic energy/light with the claimed combination of features including means for providing a initial collimated beam have substantially uniform flux, means for resolving the beam into two resolved beams of different selected predetermined orientation, means for forming the beams into a single selected predetermined orientation, collimated, uniform, rectangular beam, means for separating the beam into single selected predetermined orientation beams, means for adjusting and removing a portion of electromagnetic energy/light, means for altering the single selected predetermined orientation of each beam then recombining the altered beams into a single, collimated, uniform, rectangular beam, means for resolving the beam into two different selected predetermined orientation components and means for passing one of the beams to a projections means.

Kurematsu et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,267,029 disclose a system and method for producing a modulated beam of light including some of the claimed features like means for collimating the beam (13), means for resolving the beam into two components then forming the beam into a single selected predetermined orientation (12), means for separating the beam into single beams (7, 11), and means for adjusting and removing a portion of the beam (3, 4, 5, 6, 8) but fails to teach and/or suggest the entire claimed combination of features.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
